

MINNEAPOLIS ST. PAUL MILITARY RELIC AND COLLECTORS SHOW, LLC

OFFENSIVE PRODUCT AND CONDUCT POLICY

In accordance with paragraph 11 of the Rules of the Minneapolis St. Paul Military Relic and Collectors Show, LLC (the "Show"), it has adopted an Offensive Product and Conduct Policy.

The Show's Offensive Product and Conduct Policy prohibits any item being displayed or for sale on the premises that promotes hatred, violence, racial, sexual or religious intolerance, or promotes organizations with such views as KKK, Aryan Brotherhood, Neo-Nazis or Nazis, Nazis political groups, SS, White supremacy groups, ethnic supremacy groups, or any group that would meet with the definition of this paragraph.

NOT ALLOWED

The Show's Offensive Product and Conduct Policy prohibits any items showing the Third Reich Nazi German Swastika (and/or SS Runic symbol) are prohibited from sale or display at the Show. This includes, but not limited to, flags, banners, armbands, propaganda posters, brown shirts, uniforms, hats, helmets, badges, insignia and photographs of Third Reich Political Individuals. Holocaust items, Concentration Camp uniforms, and WW2 Jewish identification insignia are not permitted.

Individuals wearing WW2 German Uniforms, Nazi Insignia, or any hate group symbols are not permitted in the Show.

Klu Klux Klan symbols, KKK relics and memorabilia are not permitted.

Confederate Battle Flags are not permitted at the Show.

Complying with this Policy is a condition of your participation in and attendance at the Show.

ALLOWED

WW2 German Military items that do not bear a Swastika or the SS Runic symbol are permitted in the Show.

The items listed in this Policy are not inclusive of items that are not permitted from the Show as it is in the discretion of the Show's Management to determine what is acceptable or not acceptable to be displayed in the Show. Management has the final determination on its acceptability.

THE MANAGEMENT

V E N D O R S

Reference: Offensive Product and Conduct Policy of the Minneapolis
St. Paul Military Relic and Collectors Show, LLC

The Management of the Minneapolis St. Paul Military Relic and Collectors Show, LLC has adopted this Policy as a condition of participating in our Show. This is a business decision which was made after reviewing the change in attitudes of certain material that could be displayed at our Show. We believe that this change will be in line with the attitude of our guests, associated groups that we deal with, and our vendors. It is our goal to produce an enjoyable experience for our guests and our vendors consistent with changing attitudes both locally and nationally. We believe there are many very legitimate and serious German military collectors and this is not directed at them. Our Show is held on a State facility which also has an offensive conduct policy. We want to maintain our Show in the best interests of this business and it is our hope that all vendors will review this Policy carefully and comply with the terms and conditions of this Policy. If for any reason you believe that you cannot comply with the terms and conditions of this Policy and you have already made reservations or paid for reservations at our Spring Show, please immediately advise us that you are canceling your reservation and we will be glad to refund your deposit.

We have been operating this Military Show for 35 years and this has only been done by very loyal vendors and participants. It is our goal to continue with this tradition and being one of the best Military Shows in the United States.

THE MANAGEMENT